

In May, Schriever Lab hopped over to Grand Rapids, Michigan for the Joint Aquatic Sciences Meeting (IASM). The IASM 2022 meeting brought together a diverse collection of students, scientists, and experts seeking to collaborate, spread awareness on, and problem solve the complex environmental problems facing our society and planet today.

